Dear Friend,

The Golden Empire Appaloosa Horse Club is holding its annual "All Breed Schooling Show Series" in 2010. The Shows will be held March 21, May 22 and October 9. These shows are being held at Rancho Rio Stables, 5320 Peacock Lane in Bakersfield. In addition the May 22nd show will be a combination Open Show and an Appaloosa Breed Show. These shows will provide the opportunity for equestrians of all levels and horses of all breeds to get experience showing in a low-key environment conducive to learning for both the horse and rider.

The GEAHC was established to emphasize good horsemanship through proper methods of training both horse and rider; to provide recognition for young people who own or show Appaloosas; to promote ideals of citizenship, sportsmanship, showmanship, and leadership, and to promote capabilities of youth in breeding, raising, and competing on Appaloosas.

Our Club recognizes Youth and Adults in the areas of trial riding, 4-H, open and breed shows at the Club level. Points earned may also lead to various lifetime awards, annual high point awards and awards to recognize outstanding youth horses. There are programs designed for the beginning showman as well as those that challenge the most advanced exhibitor.

The Golden Empire Appaloosa Horse Club is asking individuals and businesses who share the interest and enthusiasm for the Appaloosa horse and its history or horses in general to sponsor a class or divisions at our 2010 Schooling show. Our club is a non-profit organization, State Corporation Number C0619249. Please find the sponsor form attached.

Also if your business would like to set up a booth at these shows please contact me.

Thank you so much for your time and consideration

Best Regards,
Leah Spaulding
